This Lenten study reflects on all the things that hold our attention, occupy our minds and monopolize our time, yet still isolate us from God and the world around us. Things like social media, phones, the noise of life, and focus on the external. Imagine taking on the challenge of giving up each of these for a week. During this seven-week study, Dottie Escobedo-Frank takes the reader on a journey of self discovery, where he or she learns that the power of release brings great gain. The biggest gain is a stronger relationship with Christ. In the release, each person is freed to "give it up" in applause and praise for a life deeply lived in Christ.

During Lent each year we give up something as an act of sacrifice and spiritual discipline. Often it is something we like to eat, like chocolate, knowing that come Easter Sunday we can once again enjoy what we have given up. James Moore challenges us, as he did himself, to take it further. Why not give up something spiritually that we would be better off not doing? He asks us to intentionally, with God's help, focus on eliminating one habit or attitude that is destructive in our lives. Imagine giving up envy, jealousy, self-pity, apathy, procrastination, gossip, resentment, negative thinking. How much better your life would be!

Take the days of Lent to use this study and prepare to give up something "Bad" while preparing to fully embrace the "Good News" of Easter. Study includes seven sessions, one for each Sunday in Lent and Easter Sunday. Each session features a Scripture reference, a personal reading, questions for personal reflection or group study, and closing prayer.

(Website includes a sample Session video)

In a culture built on consumption-especially of food-it is easy to forget the poor that Jesus cared so much about. Following the pattern of his successful Advent Conspiracy, Chris Seay invites readers on a journey of self-examination, discipline, and renewed focus on Jesus that will change their lives forever.

He challenges readers to eat like the poor for forty days in solidarity with a much-neglected group of people, and to donate the money they save on groceries to a charity or project that serves the poor in concrete ways. But he doesn't expect them to go it alone. A Place at the Table includes a short chapter for each of those forty days with Scripture, reflections, prayers, encouragement, and tips for engaging the whole family in the process. The six-session DVD, shot in such locations as the Holy Land, Haiti, and Ecuador, will help small groups and entire churches go on a passionate journey of radical faith, personal action, solidarity with the poor, and extravagant grace.
